until now there has been no satisfactory answer to the question of why in may of 1941 hitler s deputy rudolf hess flew a german fighter plane across the channel to scotland crashing at night in a muddy field near dungavel house though hess had been one of hitler s closest confidantes he was immediately denounced as a traitor in berlin imprisoned in england he was questioned by british mi6 and churchill himself the documents he had brought with him were confiscated and have not been made public to this day hess was tried at nuremburg at the war s end and imprisoned at spandau in berlin one of only seven former nazis held there the other six were all released but hess lingered there alone until his death in 1987 possibly by suicide possibly not the official report on hess has always been that he acted alone but many historians question this conclusion in night flight to dungavel award winning historian peter padfield presents striking new evidence that spurs a wholesale reappraisal of the mystery what actually happened what role was played by churchill and british intelligence and what has been this episode s significance as a real turning point of the war expertly woven into a compelling narrative that touches on nazi sympathizers among the british aristocracy possible british foreknowledge of the final solution and the mysterious circumstances of hess s death in spandau prison night flight to dungavel is among the most important and gripping stories of world war two scholars in the marketplace is a case study of market based reforms at uganda s makerere university with the world bank heralding neoliberal reform at makerere as the model for the transformation of higher education in africa it has implications for the whole continent at the global level the makerere case exemplifies the fate of public universities in a market oriented and capital friendly era the makerere reform began in the 1990s and was based on the premise that higher education is more of a private than a public good instead of pitting the public against the private and the state against the market this book shifts the terms of the debate toward a third alternative than explores different relations between the two the book distinguishes between privatisation and commercialisation two processes that drove the makerere reform it argues that whereas privatisation the entry of privately sponsored students is compatible with a public university where priorities are publicly set commercialisation financial and administrative autonomy for each faculty to design a market responsive curriculum inevitably leads to a market determination of priorities in a public university the book warns against commercialisation of public universities as the subversion of public institutions for private purposes
