this book explores italian science fiction from 1861 the year of italy's unification to the present day focusing on how this genre helped shape notions of otherness and normalness in particular italian science fiction draws upon critical race studies postcolonial theory and feminist studies to explore how migration colonialism multiculturalism and racism have been represented in genre film and literature topics include the role of science fiction in constructing a national identity the representation and self representation of alien immigrants in italy the creation of internal others such as southerners and roma the intersections of gender and race discrimination and italian science fiction's transnational dialogue with foreign science fiction this book reveals that though it is arguably a minor genre in italy science fiction offers an innovative interpretive angle for rethinking italian history and imagining future change in italian society a 2024 choice outstanding academic title this book tells the story of german language literature on film beginning with pioneering motion picture adaptations of faust in 1897 and early debates focused on high art as mass culture it explores analyzes and contextualizes the so called golden age of silent cinema in the 1920s the impact of sound on adaptation practices the abuse of literary heritage by nazi filmmakers and traces the role of german language literature in exile and postwar films across ideological boundaries in divided germany in new german cinema and in remakes and movies for cinema as well as television and streaming services in the 21st century having provided the narrative core to thousands of films since the late 19th century many of german cinema's most influential masterpieces were inspired by canonical texts popular plays and even children's literature not being restricted to german adaptations however this book also traces the role of literature originally written in german in international film productions which sheds light on the interrelation between cinema and key historical events it outlines how processes of adaptation are shaped by global catastrophes and the emergence of nations by materialist conditions liberal economies and capitalist imperatives political agendas the mobility of individuals and sometimes by the desire to create reflective surfaces and perhaps even art commercial cinema's adaptation practices have foregrounded economic interest but numerous filmmakers throughout cinema history have turned to german language literature not simply to entertain but as a creative contribution to the public sphere marking adaptation practice at least potentially as a form of active citizenship this ambitious undertaking is designed to acquaint students teachers and researchers with reference sources in any branch of english studies which marcuse defines as all those subjects and lines of critical and scholarly inquiry presently pursued by members of university departments of english language and literature within each of 24 major sections marcuse lists and annotates bibliographies guides reviews of research encyclopedias dictionaries journals and reference histories the annotations and various indexes are models of clarity and usefulness and cross references are liberally supplied where appropriate although cost conscious librarians will probably consider the several other excellent literary bibliographies in print such as james l harner's literary research guide modern language assn of america 1989 larger academic libraries will want marcuse's volume jack bales mary washington coll lib fredericksburg va library journal
