perspectives on translation and interpretation in cameroon is the first volume of a book series of the advanced school of translators and interpreters asti of the university of buea it opens a window into the wide dynamic and interesting area of translation and interpretation in a multilingual cameroon that had on the eve of independence and unification opted for official bilingualism in french and english the book comprises contributions from scholars of translation in the broad area of translation comprising the concept of translation and its pedagogy the history of translation and the state of the art of translation as a discipline profession and practice the book also focuses on acquisition of translation competences through training and chronicles the history of translation in cameroon through the contributions of both cameroonian and european actors from the german through the french and english colonial periods to the postcolonial present in their minutia rich original and comprehensive the book is a timely and invaluable contribution to the growing community of translators and interpreters in africa and globally this 1976 book provides both a historical survey and a critical analysis of the literature in french from west and equatorial africa professor blair begins by discussing the social educational and political influences which led to the formation of the negritude movement and to a flowering of french african creative writing this historical approach is then complemented by a study of the different literary genres she traces the evolution of the first manifestations of literary activity in french by african writers the written folk tale fable and short story from the oral tradition of the indigenous culture and the eventual appearance of the novel with a legendary or historical theme the origins of french african drama are considered for the first time and the work of the minor poets analysed finally professor blair attempts a definition of the french african novel and studies examples from three major periods from the 1930s onwards shame is one of the most frequent underlying emotions expressed throughout sub saharan african literature yet studies of such literature almost universally ignore the topic in favour of a focus on the struggle for independence and the postcolonial situation encompassing a search for individual national and ethnic identities and questions of corruption changing gender roles and conflicts between so called tradition and modernity shame however is not antithetical to these investigations and in fact the persistent trope of shame undergirds many of them this book locates these expressions of shame in sub saharan african literature and shows how its diverse literary representations underscore shame s function as a fulcrum in the mutual constitution of subject and community on the continent though shame research is dominated by western definitions and theories this study emphasizes the centrality of african conceptions of shame in ways that notions of western subjectivity dismiss or cannot capture this anthropological study offers a crucial contribution to scholarly debates about the making of african modernity by considering the implementation and reception of gender reform in the west african context historically attempts at implementing gender reform in west africa have been met with suspicion beyond the perception that such reforms subvert traditional structures of authority and community many worry that these efforts are inextricably connected to western imperialism and colonialism ludovic lado s the politics of gender reform in west africa examines the politics of a legislative process entirely driven by the state and meant to narrow the gender gap in ivorian society lado discusses the legislative processes by which states have sought to reduce the gender gap between men and women probes the potential impact of this reform on the condition of women by exploring the practice of civil marriage in abidjan and assesses the reception of the reform among catholics and muslims in côte d ivoire throughout this readable and engaging study lado examines how the relationship between secular powers and religious authorities has determined the direction gender reforms have taken although the predominant focus in this text remains on gender reforms in côte d ivoire lado also discusses their correlates in niger senegal and mali he shows that the success or failure of gender reforms in west africa has relied on the interaction of various power relationships that structure the international national local religious and domestic arenas within which west africans go about their lives the book concludes with an informed reflection on the relationship among religions the state and gender reforms that highlights some of the issues at stake in the domestication of hegemonic modernity in africa
