liminal fiction at the edge of the millennium the ends of spanish identity investigates the predominant perception of liminality identity situated at a threshold neither one thing nor another but simultaneously both and neither caused by encounters with otherness while negotiating identity in contemporary spain examining how identity and alterity are parleyed through the cultural concerns of historical memory gender roles sex religion nationalism and immigration this study demonstrates how fictional representations of reality converge in a common structure wherein the end is not the end but rather an edge a liminal ground on the border between two identities the end materializes as an ephemeral limit that delineates and differentiates yet also adjoins and approximates in exploring the ends of spanish fiction both their structure and their intentionality liminal fiction maps the edge as a constitutive component of narrative and identity in texts by najat el hachmi cristina fernández cubas javier marías rosa montero and manuel rivas in their representation of identity on the edge these fictions enact and embody the liminal not as simply a transitional and transient mode but as the structuring principle of identification in contemporary spain another of blanchot's almost fictions throwing into deliciously baffling high relief the enigmatic condition of a man and woman alone in a sparsely furnished hotel room who try to remember what has happened to bring them there as they apprehensively await whatever will happen next their reserved confusion and quiet desperation eventually impress upon them and us the realization that imagination or if you will writing can create reality and offer the paradoxical solace that seems to rest at the heart of blanchot's writing the sense that even language that expresses meaninglessness can't help but contain and therefore convey meaning kirkus this absolutely first rate translation will not only make blanchot accessible to many new readers but will also encourage blanchot scholars and students to reconsider everything they thought they knew about l'attente l'oubli this book should be required reading period choice awaiting oblivion is one of blanchot's crowning works a penetrating reflection upon human nature language and literature translation review blanchot is a terrifying writer review of contemporary fiction maurice blanchot has been for a half century one of france's leading authors of fiction and theory two of his most ambitious nonfiction works the space of literature and the writing of the disaster are also available from the university of nebraska press as is the most high his third novel john gregg is the author of maurice blanchot and the literature of transgression
