this book looks at the key challenges of hiv and aids from a gender perspective and describes positive responses in areas of the world as diverse as Cambodia, South Africa, the UK, and Papua New Guinea. The impact of HIV on women and men across the world are devastating and wide-ranging. Girls may have to drop out of school to look after sick relatives; boys to earn money; the death of working-age adults can mean that surviving family members struggle to get by with grandparents shouldering the burden of looking after orphaned grandchildren. Often in dire poverty, young women may have to resort to sex work and other risky survival strategies to support themselves and their families. Young men are growing up with ideas about masculinity that include violence and the sexual domination of women, contributing to the spread of HIV. The contributors analyze these contexts, exploring the links between HIV/AIDS, gender inequality, and poverty. They present accounts of successful interventions, recording experience, describing good practice, and sharing information about resources. This book is essential reading for development practitioners and policy makers involved in responding to the HIV and AIDS crisis.

includes reports of the president, superintendent, treasurer, and various other officials at the home; registers of deaths; lists of benefactors; various operational information; and social activities descriptions.
