special economic zones sezs have become a permanent feature of the world trade scene this book the first to provide a critical and comprehensive analysis of sezs covering a wide spectrum of countries and regions shows how sezs albeit established at the domestic level by different countries raise multiple legal issues under international economic law this first rate book is the product of the asia fdi forum iv held in hong kong in 2018 thoroughly exploring the development of the sez phenomenon and its players the contributing authors all leading economic law experts review the issues raised by sezs in the context of international trade law international investment law and investment arbitration they identify the extent to which sezs have been coherent in their design and policymaking in particular with regard to domestic law reforms they address such aspects both core themes and specific examples as the following investment protection in china s sezs state owned enterprises regulation dispute settlement under what circumstances incentives available in sezs count as export subsidies prohibited under world trade organization wto rules compliance with internal market rules in european union eu free zones local populations as victims of land expropriation brazil s manaus free trade zone india s experience with multiple sezs the administrative approval system in the shanghai free trade zone economic corridors and transit routes as sezs refugee cities sezs for migrants how china s supreme people s court serves national strategy how foreign investors challenge free zone regimes impacts of the establishment of sezs on tax revenues sezs and labour migration and management models the chapters also include insights into the new emerging generation of international investment agreements wto accession transparency and case law materials clarifying specific trade issues associated with sezs and new rules to protect the environment and labour rights as well as analysis of crucially significant cases such as Goetz v the Republic of Burundi Lee Jong Baek v Kyrgyzstan and Ampal American and Others v Egypt with its critical and comprehensive analysis of the dynamic sez phenomenon across legal economic investment regulatory and policy matrices including a thorough analysis of the success factors and required policies for sezs this book takes a giant step towards answering the question whether sezs fundamentally contradict norms of international law or whether sezs have to be considered as laboratories which facilitate the implementation of international economic policies its careful examination of theory and practice and its approach to lessons learned from case studies will reward trade and investment officials policymakers diplomats economists lawyers think tanks business leaders and others interested in this ever more important area of law and economics the tpp was negotiated among 12 economically diverse countries including some most highly developed and rich countries i.e. the united states japan australia canada new zealand and singapore some newly industrialized countries i.e. mexico and malaysia and some less developed countries i.e. peru chile and vietnam a new paradigm created in this context is that countries with vastly different economic developments can actually agree on a set of very high standards to regulate their economic activities to liberalize their trade and to protect intellectual property and foreign investment the contents of the tpp also reflect its status of being a new paradigm as the 21st century trade agreement and being a pioneer in rule making in many key regulatory areas these include not only the improved and enhanced rules on traditional issues already covered by the wto such as goods services and ip rights but also the carefully designed rules in areas that have never been addressed in the wto or comprehensively covered in other ftas such as state owned enterprises electronic commerce and labor and environmental issues although the united states has withdrawn from the tpp the remaining countries are still putting efforts into establishing a tpp without the united states or a tpp with china economically speaking the current 11 parties account for about 20 of the global economy if such agreement is put into force there will be significant implications for the region for the multilateral system and even for other ftas the book addresses the potential of the tpp to change the ways trade and investments are conducted and argues for its potential to be the start of an international trade economic law revolution the book elaborates the relationship between the tpp and other existing trade agreements such as the wto and other ftas and explains how the tpp is to deal with traditional and new issues taken together the authors argue that the implications of the tpp go beyond its current membership it is hoped that the book will make an important contribution to the field of international economic law the book deals first with microeconomic aspects of international economics the pure theory of trade and the theory of commercial policy and then with macroeconomic policy the adjustment mechanism the movement of capital the balance of payments and the international monetary system international economic law with its traditional focus on large multinational enterprises is only slowly waking up to the new reality of small and medium sized enterprises smes entering the global marketplace in the wake of the digital revolution smaller companies now play an important role in the global economic landscape in 2015 the un expressly called for smes to have greater access to international trade and investment and it is increasingly recognized that the integration of smes provides one of the keys to creating a more sustainable and inclusive global economy as smes increasingly permeate transnational supply chains so interactions between these companies and international economic law and policy proliferate small and medium sized enterprises in international economic law offers the first comprehensive analysis of the interaction between smes and international economic law this book presents a broad international perspective gathering together contributions by leading experts from academia legal practice and international organizations it opens up a field of enquiry into this so far unexplored dynamic and provide a touchstone for future debate the analysis covers a broad spectrum of international trade and investment law focusing on issues of particular interest to smes such as trade in services government procurement and trade facilitation diverse perspectives illuminate regional developments in particular within the eu and the implications of mega regional free trade agreements the essays also examine questions of legitimacy of global economic governance in particular concerns surrounding the threat posed to the interests of domestic smes by the growing liberalization of international trade and investment these essays constitute essential reading for practitioners and academics seeking to navigate a previously neglected trend in international economic law
