seminar paper from the year 2004 in the subject communications public relations advertising marketing social media grade a 1 0 emerson college integrated marketing communications course marketing management language english abstract the size of the global wine industry ranged from 130 180 billion in the beginning of the twenty first century with an average growth rate of 1 2 per year since 1994 in general this market is very fragmented because no company has reached more than one per cent of global retail sales in 2001 in order to describe this industry it is necessary to separate between two different wine markets the new world and the old world the international wine industry has been undergoing a significant restructuring the old world producers such as italy france spain and germany no longer dominate the global wine industry as they once did no longer are the new world producers such as australia new zealand south africa and usa regarded with disrespect and underestimate however there are still great differences between the two worlds regarding consumption production and innovation france italy and spain share alone 75 percent of the worldwide wine production and consumption a significant increase of the new world production could be noticed during the last two decades according to the world wine statistics the wine production has increased considerable especially in the new world countries from the average of 1997 2000 and 2001 for example australia by 34 77 china by 57 03 and south africa by 15 78 for details please see appendix table 1 furthermore we can see an expansion of the vineyard acreage in the new world countries australia for instance has increased its acreage from 1991 to 1999 by 89 23 and the united states by 13 39 please see appendix table 3 another significant increase of the wine consumption can be noticed in china with 52 88 in 2001 vs 1997 2000 please see appendix table 2 from 2002 to 2003 the global wine market has shown a total increase of only 0 2 and has presented 2 45 billion cases these facts show the enormous growing competition in the wine industry especially the new world producers were able to establish strong brands as well as to demonstrate a great wine quality through new technologies and intensive marketing they are now taking market shares away from the old world which leads to the decline of the european wine market in addition it becomes harder to differentiate and emphasize this product it is interesting to see how the table wine market is segmented in the wine industry sustainability is an extremely important issue for two main reasons firstly the industry faces serious threats as a consequence of climate change as well as water and energy scarcity secondly proper sustainable management of wineries can mean obtaining a competitive advantage by allowing them to increase market share and organizational innovation processes in this sense previous work has shown that customers tend to select wines that have been developed following sustainable practices despite not knowing what this means in practice the handbook of research on sustainability challenges in the wine industry serves as a guide for study reflection and critique to understand sustainability in the wine industry in its triple aspect economic social and environmental the book sheds light on the new trends and challenges of the wine industry making it a must read for academicians and managers who want to deepen their knowledge of the wine industry as well as its link with sustainability covering key topics such as wine tourism green innovation and consumer behavior this major reference work is ideal for industry professionals business owners managers entrepreneurs researchers scholars academicians practitioners instructors and students
