it s a heartwarming holiday of burning revenge and blazing bullets when the jensen family gathers in tucson for christmas in this western adventure like most families the jensens gather to celebrate the holidays this year since half the clan is scattered across the american west they ve decided to split the difference and meet up in tucson matt and luke will be there and maybe ace and chance too that leaves sally preacher and smoke jensen who ve reserved three seats on a westbound stage to make sure they don t miss the festivities what could possibly go wrong the first to strike is a sandstorm as blinding and deadly as any northern blizzard then comes an apache ambush forcing the passengers and drivers to seek shelter in a cave even if smoke and preacher manage to shoot their way out they have another big surprise waiting a ruthless gang of outlaws after the cargo of cash on the stage happy to slaughter anyone who tries to stop them if the jensens hope to save christmas this year they ll need to save their own lives first this book is of interest to any scholar of world war ii particularly those focused on bridging culture and war highly readable this text is suitable for undergraduate and popular audiences as well many should find its analysis to be a refreshing take on the well trodden field of world war ii histories journal of military history december 1942 saw the bloodiest christmas in the history of mankind from the islands in the pacific to the china front from the trenches in russia to the battle lines in north africa in the skies over europe and in the depths of the atlantic men were killing each other in greater numbers than ever before the holocaust continued and innocent civilians were murdered by the thousands throughout the evil nazi empire even as the perpetrators celebrated the birth of christ millions stationed in far off lands amid the greatest conflict in human history feared this was their last christmas in freedom or their last christmas alive at the same time as the slaughter continued unabated throughout the world there were random acts of kindness born out of an instinctive feeling of the essential brotherhood of man these gestures also straddled religious barriers and sometimes included those of non christian faiths even some japanese otherwise embarked on a self declared crusade against the west relented for a few precious hours in acknowledgment of the holiday at the same time christmas 1942 saw the injunction of good will to man distorted in ugly and callous ways at auschwitz ss guards played cruel games with their prisoners in berlin the german heart of darkness propaganda minister joseph goebbels spent time with his family while still buried in feverish fantasies about the jewish world conspiracy christmas 1942 saw the entire range of man's conduct towards his fellow man reflecting the extremes of behavior good and bad that world war ii gave rise to the way the holiday was marked around the world tells a deeper and more universal story of the human condition in extraordinary times nicholas blake qc was appointed on 15th december 2004 to review the circumstances surrounding the deaths of four soldiers at deepcut between 1995 and 2002 the review covers in detail the deaths of three soldiers sean benton cheryl james and geoff gray the fourth death that of james collinson was subject to an outstanding inquest and so was not investigated in detail nor are the inquest results the review also deals with aspects of army policy on recruitment and training over a ten year period and matters relating to the training regiment at deepcut the review has concluded that on the balance of probabilities the deaths of sean benton cheryl james and geoff gray were self inflicted and that the opportunity for self infliction was afforded by the policy of frequently assigning trainees to armed guard duty at deepcut unsupervised by experienced soldiers or members of the military provost guard the review does not feel that a public inquiry into the immediate or broader events surrounding the deaths is necessary sean benton who had attempted self harm on at least two occasions in the months before he died had had disciplinary problems in his army career had been notified that his discharge from the army was being applied for and had previously been denied access to a weapon on guard duty on the day of his death he obtained the weapon from another trainee under false pretences there was no evidence that cheryl james or geoff gray posed a risk of self harm and no certainty as to what might have led them to their actions they had both performed frequent armed guard duties at remote locations which might have made them unhappy and combined with other personal factors may have made them more susceptible to self harm at the time of their deaths there was no evidence of bullying in any of the three cases factors contributing to the deaths might have been the training environment at deepcut causing low morale through poor accommodation limited recreational facilities and the balance between privacy and dormitory life unsupervised access to weapons supervision of trainees discipline bullying and informal sanctions ventilation of grievances poor instructors the review makes 34 recommendations covering recruitment screening of recruits and parental involvement training for minors and the length of training provisions for minors during training supervisory ratios the quality of instructors information on standards of conduct collective responsibility making and responding to complaints investigating complaints record keeping an ombudsman for the armed forces guard duty sudden deaths disclosure and confidentiality whether there is a need for a public inquiry
