the ten letters collected here are arguably the most famous and beloved letters of our century written when rainer maria rilke was himself still a young man with most of his greatest work before him they are addressed to a student who had sent rilke some of his work asking for advice about becoming a writer the two never met but over a period of several years Rilke wrote him these ten letters which have been enjoyed by hundreds of thousands of readers for what Stephen Mitchell calls the vibrant and deeply felt experience of life that informs them during the 18th century letter manuals became the most popular form of conduct literature they were marketed to and used by a wide spectrum of society from maidservants and apprentices through military officers and merchants to gentlemen parents and children this work presents the most influential manuals from both sides of the Atlantic young adults who have lived in out of home care at some point during their childhood often struggle to build stable lives this is not surprising typically young care leavers not only have to overcome a difficult childhood but also tend to receive less support during the crucial years of early adulthood than youth living with their parents an intriguing tale told with confidence the times
