the term metafiction invaded the vocabulary of literary criticism around 1970 yet the textual strategies involved in turning fiction back onto itself can be traced through several centuries in this theoretical critical study robert c spires examines the nature of metafiction and chronicles its evolution in spain from the time of cervantes to the 1970s when the obsession with novelistic self commentary culminated in an important literary movement the critical portions of this study focus primarily on twentieth century works included are analyses of unamuno s niebla jarnés s locura y muerte de nadie and la novia del viento torrente ballester s don juan cunquero s un hombre que se parecía a orestes and three novels from the self referential movement of the 1970s juan goytisolo s juan sin tierra luis goytisolo s la colera de aquiles and martin gaite s el cuarto de atrás seeking a stronger theoretical basis for his critical readings spires offers a sharpened definition of the term metafiction the mode arises he declares through an intentional violation of the boundaries that normally separate the worlds of the author the fiction and the reader building on theoretical foundations laid by frye scholes genette and others spires also proposes a literary paradigm that places metafiction in a position intermediate between fiction and literary theory these theoretical formulations place spires s book in the forefront of critical thought at the same time his full scale analyses of spanish metafictional works will be welcomed by hispanists and other students of world literature

this volume advances scholarly understanding of the ways in which discourse deixis underpins the workings of metafictional novels building on existing scholarship in the field the book begins by mapping out key themes and techniques in metafiction and puts forward a focused and theoretically coherent account of discourse deixis language which points to a section or aspect of the discourse context in which that language is used in written literary discourse highlighting its inherent significance in metafiction specifically macrae takes readers through an exploration of discourse deixis as used within the techniques of metanarration metalepsis and disnarration drawing on a mix of both well established and lesser known metafictional novels from the late 1960s and early 1970s by such authors as john barth brigid brophy robert coover john fowles steve katz and b s johnson this comprehensive account integrates and develops a new approach to understanding discourse deixis and innovative insights into metafictionality more broadly and will be of particular interest to scholars in literary studies postmodern literature narratology and stylistics metafiction is one of the most distinctive features of postwar fiction appearing in the work of novelists as varied as eco borges martin amis and julian barnes it comprises two elements firstly cause the increasing interpenetration of professional literary criticism and the practice of writing and secondly effect an emphasis on the playing with styles and forms resulting from an enhanced self consciousness and awareness of the elusiveness of meaning and the limitations of the realist form dr currie s volume examines first the two components of metafiction with practical illustrations from the work of such writers as derrida and foucault a final section then provides the view of metafiction as seen by metafictional writers themselves the present state of research in precarity demands meta questions and hence we need to probe both philosophy and practice in light of precarity s different manifestations the plural perspectives by which this phenomenon can be addressed also suggest potential for further theorization alongside that of butler and her critics by inviting scholars and experts from different fields and disciplines and by applying multiple frameworks methodological approaches and critical lenses this volume seeks to explore the different facets of our precarious world while providing insights into the challenges of our possible futures this book explores the adaptation of children s metafiction including works such as inkheart the invention of hugo cabret and the harry potter series postmodernity in latin america contests the prevailing understanding of the relationship between postmodernity and latin america by focusing on recent developments in latin american and particularly argentine political and literary culture while european and north american theorists of postmodernity generally view latin american fiction without regard for its political and cultural context latin americanists often either uncritically apply the concept of postmodernity to latin american literature and society or reject it in an equally uncritical fashion the result has been both a limited understanding of the literature and an impoverished notion of postmodernity santiago colás challenges both of these approaches and corrects their consequent distortions by locating argentine postmodernity in the cultural dynamics of resistance as it operates within and against local expressions of late capitalism focusing on literature colás uses julio cortázar s hopscotch to characterize modernity for latin america as a whole manuel puig s kiss of the spider woman to identify the transition to a more localized postmodernity and ricardo piglia s artificial respiration to exemplify the cultural coordinates of postmodernity in argentina informed by the cycle of political transformation beginning with the cuban revolution including its effects on peronism to the period of dictatorship and finally to redemocratization colás s examination of this literary progression leads to the reconstruction of three significant moments in the history of argentina his analysis provokes both a revised understanding of that history and the recognition that multiple meanings of postmodernity must be understood in ways that incorporate the complexity of regional differences offering a new voice in the debate over postmodernity one that challenges that debate s leading thinkers postmodernity in latin america will be of particular interest to students of latin american literature and to scholars in all disciplines concerned with theories of the postmodern queer spaces are crucial for the construction of lgbtq communities as they constitute places where queer subjects can create political social and affective alliances júlia braga neves shows how these spaces are pivotal for the representation of queer history in the fictional works by the british authors sarah waters and alan hollinghurst whose characters and plots are articulated through and within london s sexual geographies considering the intersection between gender sexuality and class this study engages with spatial queer feminist and marxist theories as a means to reflect on london queer historiography and the relationship between subject and urban space despite the prominence given to it recently by mikhaïl bakhtin and northrop frye menippean satire remains a neglected and misunderstood genre focusing on the eighteenth century writers john dunton thomas d'urfey and laurence Sterne menippean satire and the poetics of wit explores the excesses of these eccentric transgressive writers who take their readers to the limits of language as the outlaw of genre menippean satire exploits the improprieties supplied by a self conscious use of wit the principle of exuberance in eighteenth century poetics in fact the exuberance of wit produces menippean satire's central paradox that self conscious writers lose their identity in the very pursuit of it by tracing wit's exuberance through its abusive metaphors or catachreses to the abusive ideologies of class and gender this genre study provides a literary tradition for the postmodern deconstructive project including the work of Jacques Derrida this book explores how silences in Carmen Martín Gaité's novels affect narrative communication and the reader focusing on Entre visillos 1957 El cuarto de atrás 1978 and Nubosidad variable 1992 this study shows how silences inhere in Martín Gaité's narrative style especially in the distinctive ways that her novels create interlocution and communicate feminist messages it also probes how silences in the author's narrative relate to historical and social conditions in Spain and to various literary periods and genres silence as a literary term can be ambiguous because critics give it many different meanings and often without specifying types of silences accordingly the book typologizes narrative silences and their roles in narrative communication this study reveals that in Martín Gaité's novels women's silences become over time more a means for creative expression and personal growth than a result of oppression a discussion of Hawkes' novels The Blood Oranges Death Sleep and the Traveler and Travesty

the present collection of academic articles is an attempt to reflect on new openings and recent developments in literature literary theory and culture which seem to point beyond postmodernism and register a return to traditional concepts theoretical premises and authorial practices interestingly enough forty years after the publication of John Barth's seminal essay "The Literature of Exhaustion" 1967 the book is trying to diagnose the exhaustion of postmodernism which was predicted by David Lodge already two decades ago it also attempts to trace the signs in contemporary literature indicating that postmodernism is past its heyday that it is losing or has lost its shine fascination and attraction and that writers have been turning to the "old" or pre-modern forms practices and strategies Herbert Grabes' comprehensive and illuminating article "From the postmodern to the pre-modern" more recent changes in literature art and theory which opens and sets the tone for this collection of essays is a major assessment of new developments in literary culture focusing on the evolution of the postmodern to the premodern mode it also highlights the role and current popularity of cultural studies and cultural history's theoretical movements which have been prevailing for some time now after the end of deconstruction the articles assembled in this collection are on diverse thematics and written from diverse theoretical perspectives they differ in scope and methodology and their focus ranges from the postmodern intertextual aspect to the open questioning of it and to more recent developments in the literary culture focusing on literary icons like a s byatt john banville margaret atwood umberto eco vladimir nabokov but also extending into a less known regions â geographically as well they invite reconsideration and reconceptualization of such key notions as â oetruthâ meaning production textuality and literary interpretation this book aims at opening fresh discussion debate and reflection on the new age reaching beyond postmodernism and the budding literary mode whatever labels we might stick to it the author addresses the influence of poststructuralism on literary studies studies in britain and america focusing on the theory of deconstruction as developed by jacques derrida the book redresses common misinterpretations and assesses arguments for the collapse of disciplinary boundaries
