in this fascinating book donna stonecipher doubles down on the development of prose poetry and the city tactically her sweeping complex yet meticulous essay engages baudelaire's sudden or is it sudden incursion from the constraints of verse into the roominess of prose paragraphs of place while linking civic horizontality and corporate verticality tracking possibilities in using everything from architecture to landscape to cookbooks fl neur like her essay exuberantly and expertly gathers together rhizomatic threads of thinkers and poets of the last two centuries reads like a song norma cole this fascinating exploration of the prose poem begins with a question that most other studies have overlooked or taken for granted what if anything do cities and prose poetry have to do with each other donna stonecipher's touchstone for this question is charles baudelaire's prose poems in le spleen de paris but her excavation of the relationship between the built environment of prose poem and city moves backwards to ancient greece and forwards to the new sentence as stonecipher unpacks the dialogic space of the prose poem her essay moves vertically and horizontally providing histories of the skyscraper and the aesthetics and ethics of vertical ascension and much else as she moves nimbly through large swaths of intellectual architectural urban and aesthetic history stonecipher engages debates central to poetics and to modernity itself taking seriously the challenge of considering how aesthetic forms register respond to and transform their built social and historical environments an indispensable and enlightening guide that is also a pleasure to read susan rosenbaum written w classroom teachers in mind this bk is a guide to the art of poetry a focused approach to how to teach poetry it focuses on two main issues how poetry is defined perceived taught how it can become more integrated into students live while severa books have dealt with the buddhism oft s eliot s four quartets none have focused on its christian aspect though this is more fundamental to the poem this selection prints in whole or in part 317 letters that are representative of each period of stevenson s mature life jacket
