nearly 5250 years ago just before mahabharata war at kurukshetra in india the lord krishna bestowed his divine discourse to motivate and uplift the depressed arjuna this discourse is one of the supreme divine scriptures from the lord himself directly to the entire humanity is known as srimad bhagwad gita after mahabharata war the great writer ved vyas orally narrate and lord ganesh wrote srimad bhagwad gita and most of the hindu scriptures also the existence of prehistoric super human scriptures which no ordinary human including the scientists mind can write is the undisputed proof of the avatars of lord in human forms srimad bhagwad gita is written originally in sanskrit by bhagwan ved vyas has been translated by so many esteemed writers but in my opinion none have tried to relate it with the latest cosmological and scientific discoveries with my scientific background i have tried to synthesis it with sciences and have given my scientific analysis also there shouldn t be any contradiction between sciences and our scriptures god is one and also the creator of all the scientific laws chemical physical properties to matter and how the partials react with each other it is astoning that the entire matter and different particles are just alike everywhere in the vast universe certainly the entire universe is creation of one supreme brahman and it is inside him it can never go outside the brahman bhagwad gita is not an exclusive private property of hindu s alone but all humans on entire earth have equal right over it moreover it is a knowledge directly transferred to humans by god himself it can never be wrong readers should read srimad bhagwad gita daily starting with chapter one in a sequence in a lonely secluded place and try to digest it throughout the day you will not be able to follow if you don t read it in sequence it is also a wonder how could the great ved vyas sitting in a cave and his disciple sanjay sitting in palace with dhritarashtra could know the each and every moment happenings during the mahabharata war and write it exactly later sitting in a cave without collecting information from anywhere sciences were not so advanced those days but the spiritual science was definitely very advanced
