robert altman and the elaboration of hollywood storytelling reveals an altman barely glimpsed in previous critical accounts of the filmmaker this re examination of his seminal work during the hollywood renaissance or new hollywood period of the early 1970s including m a s h brewster mccloud mccabe mrs miller images the long goodbye thieves like us california split and nashville sheds new light on both the films and the filmmaker reframing altman as a complex pragmatic innovator whose work exceeds but is also grounded in the norms of classical hollywood storytelling rather than someone who rejected those norms in favor of modernist art cinema its findings and approach hold important implications for the study of cinematic authorship largely avoiding thematic exegesis it employs an historical poetics approach robust functionalist frameworks archival research and formal and statistical analysis to demystify the essential features of the standard account of altman s filmmaking history and profile lax narrative form heavy reliance on the zoom sound design replete with overlapping dialogue improvisational infidelity to the screenplay and a desire to subvert based in his time in the training grounds of industrial filmmaking and filmed television the book provides a clear example of how a filmmaker might work collaboratively and pragmatically within and across media institutions to elaborate upon their sanctioned practices and aims we misunderstand altman s work and the creative work of hollywood filmmakers in general when we insist on describing innovation as opposition to institutional norms and on describing those norms as simply assimilating innovation hollywood aesthetic offers the first comprehensive appraisal of hollywood s capacity to provide aesthetic pleasure to mass audiences grounded in film history and in the psychological and philosophical literature in aesthetics hollywood aesthetic explains how hollywood creates for huge numbers of people some of their most exhilarating experiences of art in the mid 1990s turkish cinema experienced a remarkable revival however what is particularly unusual about this revival is the emergence of a new representational form silent inaudible characters equally unusual is the fact that this new on screen silence had a gender ed ing aspect since for the most part the mute d characters were female this book focuses on these newly emergent silent female characters in the new cinema of turkey and explores the relationship between the new female representational form the new cinema of turkey and the new socio political climate in turkey after the september 12 1980 military coup it investigates two central questions what are the functions formations and operations of these silent female characters and why did this female representational form emerge specifically in this timeframe bearing a cinematic function of instrumentality and exposing one way or another a close association between point of view and discursive authority in the films studied the silent female representational form in the new cinema of turkey is a cinematic symptom of the on going struggle over the disrupted orders of gender nation and national memory due to an increase in thus far silenced or marginalized voices in turkey the silent form not only functions as a cinematic instrument to reveal crises in hegemonic power positions but also becomes a battleground within a struggle for re obtaining a position of discursive authority in the realms of gender nation and past the silent form in itself becomes an instrument on the discursive level which enables a response to turkey s crises in these three interconnected realms in the post 1980s
