this book provides a multidimensional analysis of iran s struggle for development between 1970 and 2020 the past several decades in iran have been a period of sluggish and noninclusive economic growth ill fated social engineering with an islamic template political repression and extensive environmental degradation the intellectual discourse surrounding the impediments of growth in iran has been dominated by an exaggerated notion of the role of ideology class struggles imperialism and historical contingencies overlooking the profound impacts of institutions and fundamental socioeconomic trends this book aims to fill this gap using positive economics and data driven analysis to cover a wide array of topics such as governance corruption energy and food security it will be essential for researchers policy makers and journalists the current rise of islamism throughout the muslim world islamists demand for the establishment of islamic states and their destabilizing impact on regional and global orders have raised important questions about the origins of islamism and the nature of an islamic state beginning with the iranian revolution of the late 1970s and the establishment of the islamic republic to today s rise of isis to prominence it has become increasingly apparent that islamism is a major global force in the twenty first century that demands acknowledgment and answers as a highly integrated belief system the islamic worldview rejects secularism and accounts for a prominent role for religion in the politics and laws of muslim societies islam is primarily a legal framework that covers all aspects of muslims individual and communal lives in this sense the islamic state is a logical instrument for managing muslim societies even moderate muslims who genuinely but not necessarily vociferously challenge the extremists strategies are not dismissive of the political role of islam and the viability of an islamic state however sectarian and scholastic schisms within islam that date back to the prophet s demise do undermine any possibility of consensus about the legal institutional and policy parameters of the islamic state within its shi a sectarian limitations this book attempts to offer some answers to questions about the nature of the islamic state nearly four decades of experience with the islamic republic of iran offers us some insights into such a state s accomplishments potentials and challenges while the islamic worldview offers a general framework for governance this framework is in dire need of modification to be applicable to modern societies as iranians have learned in the realm of practical politics transcending the restrictive precepts of islam is the most viable strategy for building a functional islamic state indeed islam does provide both doctrinal and practical instruments for transcending these restrictions this pursuit of pragmatism could potentially offer impressive strategies for governance as long as sectarian scholastic and autocratic proclivities of authorities do not derail the rights of the public and their demand for an orderly management of their societies
