gnosticism has become a problematic category in the study of early christianity it obscures diversity invites essentialist generalisations and is a legacy of ancient heresiology however simply to conclude with diversity is unsatisfying and new efforts to discern coherence and to synthesise need to be made the present work seeks to make a fresh start by concentrating on irenaeus report on a specific group called the gnostics and on his claim that valentinus and his followers were inspired by their ideas following this lead an attempt is made to trace the continuity of ideas from this group to valentinianism the study concludes that there is more continuity than has previously been recognised irenaeus gnostics emerge as the predecessors not only of valentinianism but also of sethianism they represent an early philosophically inspired form of christ religion that arose independently of the new testament canon christology is essential and provides the basis for the myth of sophia the book is relevant for all students of christian origins and the early history of the church to understand some of the basic beliefs of gnosticism let us start with the common ground shared between gnosticism and modern christianity both believe the world is imperfect corrupt and brutal the blame for this according to mainstream christianity is placed squarely on the shoulders of man himself with the fall of man adam the world was forever changed to the undesirable and harmful place in which we live today however gnostics reject this view as an incorrect interpretation of the creation myth according to gnostics the blame is not in ourselves but in our creator the creator of this world was himself somewhat less than perfect and in fact deeply flawed and cruel making mankind the children of a lesser god the parallel between sophia and mary magdalene in gnostic theology cannot be overstated sophia was the handmaiden of the supreme god carrying the life force which was the emanation of god she carried the truth within her which she offered to adam the truth was offered up to set him free mary was the consort of jesus carrying the imparted knowledge and possibly his life force in the form of a child she revealed to the apostles the truth jesus personally and intimately gave to her alone we will see this stated clearly in the gospel of mary magdalene later in this book
