excerpt from elements of art criticism comprising a treatise on the principles of man's nature as addressed by art together with a historic survey of the methods of art execution in the departments of drawing sculpture architecture painting landscaping gardening and the decorative arts the following treatise on the elements of art criticism has originated in a conviction that the general neglect of early instruction in the principles of art execution is a serious defect in american education which defect may be and therefore should be removed the educated american tourist finds him self mortified amid the galleries and before the monuments of art in the old world because unlike european visitors he has no preparatory acquaintance with the first principles of art kindred to his early instruction in science and literature which would make him at home among such treasures and fit him to appreciate to enjoy and to improve his privilege the american legislator obliged by his position to take action in meeting the great and growing demand for public expenditures in the department of painting sculpture and architecture is harassed with the apprehension that having no independent judgment of his own he may be misled by unworthy and interested men who are ever in advance of genuine artists in pressing their own claims the young american artist has rarely access to technical historical and critical treatises on art which may give clearness and comprehensiveness to his investigations and conceptions to this special lack of these several special classes must be added the general want felt by the entire mass of the american people male and female youths and adults pre eminently an educated and reading people who though supplied with elementary treatises in every department of science and philosophy search in vain in american and even in english libraries for a condensed and comprehensive work on art which shall meet their general need the demand is a peculiar one and the effort to meet it is attended with great difficulty about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works this book and its companion volume trusting in providence tell the story of writing critical histories of art and literature in a state and country where there is little interest in the life of the mind and where arts institutions funding agencies and other bodies think that there is little value in critical thought or in knowing anything about australia's cultural past back cover at a time where there are repeated claims of the impending demise of art criticism the ends of art criticism seeks to dispel these myths by arguing that the lack of a single dominant voice in criticism is not as some believe a weakness but a strength allowing previously marginalised voices and new global and political perspectives to come to the fore an essential book for anyone interested in contemporary art criticism the ends of art criticism benefits from an author whose 30 years of experience as editor of art monthly magazine allows her to offer opinionated and thought provoking insight into the many questions and debates surrounding current critical writing on art including the relationship between artists and critics the academicisation of critical discourse and the relationship between art history and criticism this book brings together two of the most important figures of twentieth century criticism walter benjamin and theodor adorno to consider a topic that was central to their thinking the place of and reason for art in society and culture thijs lijster takes us through points of agreement and disagreement between the two on such key topics as the relationship between art and historical experience between avant garde art and mass culture and between the intellectual and the public he also addresses the continuing relevance of benjamin and adorno to ongoing debates in contemporary aesthetics such as the end of art the historical meaning of art and the role of the critic contributors to this anthology analyze the contemporary academic methods for critiquing art and suggest new ways that might further our understandings of art created by myriad individuals and groups the essays give readers further insight into a diverse range of artistic creators often overlooked in art world studies the traditional borders between the arts have been eroded to reveal new connections and create new links between art forms cultural interactions is intended to provide a forum for this activity it will publish monographs edited collections and volumes of primary material on points of crossover such as those between literature and the visual arts or photography and fiction music and theatre sculpture and historiography
