in 1960 the gdp per capita of southeast asian countries was nearly half of that of africa by 1986 the gap had closed and today the trend is reversed with more than half of the world s poorest now living in sub saharan africa why has asia developed while africa lagged the asian aspiration chronicles the stories of explosive growth and changing fortunes the leaders events and policy choices that lifted a billion people out of abject poverty within a single generation the largest such shift in human history the relevance of asia s example comes as africa is facing a population boom which can either lead to crisis or prosperity and as asia is again transforming this time out of low cost manufacturing into hi tech leaving a void that is africa s for the taking far from the optimistic determinism of africa rising this book calls for unprecedented pragmatism in the pursuit of african success china s war of resistance against japan as wwii is known in china was never about the defeat of japan alone china was also at war with itself between 1937 and 1949 a vicious revolutionary war between nationalists and communists divided by radically different views about china s future ravaged the country killing millions and laying waste to cities and the countryside the outcomes of these wars have shaped the country and the world since china at war focuses on this period examining the complex truth behind the propaganda of both east and west cambridge professor hans van de ven shows how the results of the fighting ended european imperialism in east asia restored china to its traditional position of regional centrality and gave the usa a decisive role in east asian politics in the process he argues it also triggered profound changes in warfare as important as the development of atomic weapons and gave the countryside a new social political and military significance through fascinating personal accounts and extensive scholarship china at war casts new light on this crucial period of history and harnesses contemporary art culture and ideology to illuminate world changing events please note this is a companion version not the original book sample book insights 1 in a country in the early stages of development typically 75 percent of the population is employed in agriculture the problem with agriculture in pre industrial states with rising populations is that when market forces are left to themselves agricultural yields tend to stagnate or even fall 2 the question of efficiency depends on what outcome you are looking for big capitalist farms may produce the highest return on cash invested but that is not the agricultural efficiency that is appropriate to a developing state 3 the world of the home fruit and vegetable gardener is very familiar to the post war east asian peasant family with its mini farm the labor intensive gardening approach to cultivation gets more out of a given plot of land than anything else 4 the problem is that the gardening level of output needs so much labor if mr doiron gardened full time he might be able to maintain his yields for 1 000 square meters of land but that would still require ten mr doirons to earn 135 000 across one hectare before costs this book argues that that the rise of great firms those with sustainable high return on invested capital roic will lay the foundation for china s successful economic transformation drawn from the author s research on corporate finance and the chinese economy the author maintains that being big could be easy but means little for corporate china especially in the context of china s transition from an investment led economy to an efficiency driven one the work discusses both internal and external impediments that lead to lack of great companies in china and suggests institutional conditions which foster the rise of great companies in china including reversing the government s obsession with gdp reforming the financial system and promoting entrepreneurship policy makers investors corporate executives and mba students and scholars will appreciate case studies of huawei alibaba xiaomi and lenovo among others that illustrate the endeavors made by chinese entrepreneurs at the grassroots level and highlight what makes successful companies in china the author of how asia works follows the money alarming enlightening joe studwell should be named chief myth buster for asian business financial times hong kong and southeast asia are home to five hundred million people yet their economies are dominated by only fifty families whose interests range from banking to real estate shipping to sugar gambling to lumber at their peak eight of the world s two dozen richest men were southeast asian but their names would not be familiar to most regular readers of the wall street journal a complex mythology surrounds these billionaires but in asian godfathers joe studwell finds that the facts are even more remarkable than the myths studwell has spent fifteen years as a reporter in the region and he marshals his unprecedented sources to paint intimate and revealing portraits of the men who control southeast asia studwell also provides us with a rich and deep understanding of the broader historic economic and political influences that have shaped southeast asia over the past 150 years asian godfathers is a riveting and illuminating book that lifts the curtain on a world of staggering secrecy and hypocrisy and reveals for the first time who the leaders of one of the planet s most important and tumultuous markets really are why they got to the top and how they keep themselves there the romp around the region s pleasure domes is a blast the wall street journal asia
