this book examines all major facets of the philippine economy and development policy contributors to this volume look both to the past and to the future and their approaches are variously descriptive analytical interpretive and comparative the book assesses trends since the 1980s identifies major policy issues and provides a balance sheet of achievements and deficiencies over the past decade and beyond it highlights future challenges that need to be addressed if the country is to embark on a sustainable durable and equitable growth trajectory the book also offers lessons from the country s development experience which may be relevant for many countries at the present time the volume has particular relevance for the country s policymakers academics and the business community and will also appeal to a broader international audience the first soil survey in the philippines was done by mr clarence dorsey an american soil scientist in the province of batangas in 1903 the soils of the philippines however is the first comprehensive summary of more than a century of soil survey work in this country it integrates the soil concepts of the reconnaissance soil survey results which commenced as early as 1934 and continued until the mid 1960s with the semi detailed soil surveys that continue to this day the result is the first ever genetic key for classifying philippine soils at soil series level thus making it possible for any newcomers to the soil survey field to confidently produce their own soil map at a more detailed map scale to suit the project requirements this book brings together discussions on soils and soil mapping units and up to date international techniques and technologies it makes soils relevant to current political realities and national issues as soil survey moves from a reductionist agricultural development planning tool to a more holistic and integrated approach to enable us to understand our dynamic and complex environment the soils of the philippines will be the only source of authoritative and updated data on soil resources for macro level resource management planning for decades to come with a vanishing breed of experienced soil surveyors not only in the philippines but also worldwide it may remain the only book on philippine soils for the next hundred years or more since soils follow a geological and not a human time frame the contents of this volume will stay relevant for soil surveyors even in a fast changing world as the country leaps from an agricultural economy towards modernization and a more diversified economic base some of the soil series in the philippines for example the guadalupe series underlying the skyscrapers of makati city are becoming extinct as a result of urban development therefore this book serves as the repository for the soils that we possess the soils that have been lost through decades of urbanization while at the same time it creates a soil classification system for the soils we are yet to discover

one of the main problems faced by teachers and students who have a scholarly interest in southeast asia is the lack of general user friendly texts in the social sciences the absence of an introduction to the sociology of southeast asia is especially unfortunate this volume attempts to meet these needs this is then the first sole authored introductory sociology text on southeast asia that focuses on change and development in the region provides an overview of the important sociological and political economy writings and considers the key concepts and themes in the field since 1945 some multiauthored works do exist but these either are outdated or focus on specialized topics aimed primarily at undergraduates up to the final year it will also be a useful reference work for post graduates and researchers who lack such a general work
