in late eighteenth century vienna a remarkable coterie of five aristocratic women popularly known as the five princesses achieved social preeminence and acclaim as close associates of the reforming habsburg emperor joseph ii they were princess maria josepha clary 1728 1801 princess maria sidonia kinsky 1729 1815 princess maria leopoldine liechtenstein 1733 1809 countess subsequently princess maria leopoldine kaunitz 1741 1795 and princess maria eleonore liechtenstein 1745 1812 the group assumed a stable form by 1772 by which time joseph ii and two of his closest male associates field marshal franz moritz lacy and count franz xavier orsini rosenberg had become accepted members of the circle as well during the viennese social season members of the group made their way several times each week to the inner city palace of one of the dames as members of the group called themselves during the summer months when the women dispersed to visit country estates in bohemia and moravia or to travel group members corresponded regularly these were exciting restless years in the habsburg monarchy as reforms were implemented to help the monarchy withstand threats to its stability and international stature from without and within with assured access to the emperor and his closest advisors the dames enjoyed both a unique view of events and a chance to participate in public affairs albeit informally and discreetly as steadfast acknowledged friends of the emperor through analysis of the correspondence of these women and of the published and unpublished commentaries of their contemporaries this study scrutinizes the activities of this select group of women during the co regency period 1765 1780 when joseph shared responsibility with his mother maria theresia and during joseph s decade as sole ruler 1780 1790 after maria theresia s death years during which the women enjoyed their special position a major new biography of maria theresa the formidable habsburg empress maria theresa was the single most powerful woman in eighteenth century europe at the age of just twenty three she succeeded to the habsburg domains only to find them contested by almost every power in europe over the next forty years she became a fierce leader and opponent as well as a devoted wife and mother to sixteen children in this engrossing biography richard bassett traces maria theresa s life and complex legacy drawing on hitherto unpublished sources bassett reveals her keen sense of moderation and tolerance innovative ideas on free trade and finance and studied reluctance to resort to policies of territorial expansion yet maria theresa s modernisation policies were not entirely progressive antisemitism and an enduring suspicion of protestantism greatly affected the lives of her subjects this is a gripping study of one of the world s most influential leaders revealing how maria theresa confounded gendered expectations and left a lasting mark on europe covers the events as europe transformed during the period from the renaissance to the enlightenment an examination of 18th century absolutism ian armour s authoritative history of eastern europe spans the turbulent years from 1740 to 1918 it traces how the big powers most notably the habsburg ottoman and russian empires jostled for control in the region and examines the roots of nationalism which were nurtured by harrowing poverty and social turmoil today s world is a world of nation states few have survived since the early modern period some have existed for three hundred years most came into being during the second part of the last century yet the equation between the state and the nation does not go back far in history despite the prevailing tendency to view the state as closely linked to ethnicity to challenge the latter this book attempts to examine statehood separately from the concept of ethnicity it asks what is non ethnic about statehood by looking at statehood before and beyond ethnicity a non ethnic statehood is analysed in two forms as a historical phenomenon at the time of the emergence of the early modern state part one and as a historical tradition which had been pursued by the nation builders in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries part two instead of looking at great powers as traditional models of statehood individual chapters focus on minor and less familiar states in northern and eastern europe from the period c 1600 2000 including belgium bohemia greece the netherlands romania poland lithuania serbia and montenegro sweden scotland and transylvania monarchy and religion explores the religious dimension of kingship in 18th century europe by comparing the british french russian and some of the german monarchies it challenges assumptions about the desaralization of royal power during this period
