since the present displacement crisis began in january 2014 with the advance of the islamic state of iraq and al sham isis the humanitarian emergency in iraq has become more severe the number of internally displaced persons idps in iraq now stands at 3 2 million while more than 8 million people are in need of humanitarian assistance with the un lacking funding and the government of iraq and kurdistan regional government krg under both military and economic strain the protection of human rights and provision of humanitarian assistance have been gravely compromised iraq s displacement crisis security and protection provides an up todate overview of the situation of idps in iraq since the isis onslaught and resulting conflict including not only forced displacement committed by isis but also that perpetrated by other armed groups including government forces the report also explores the facilitation of idp returns to areas of origin due to poor living conditions in areas of displacement many families are seeking to return even though the situation in their area of origin may not have improved almost without exception however liberated areas are in need of better security reconstruction of basic infrastructure and the resumption of public services two years on social tensions are rising in both areas of displacement and areas of return with new population movements and territorial control shifting between armed groups host communities and authorities are under greater pressure intimidation and harassment of idps based on their origins are common and increasing in areas of displacement communities who find themselves in areas where they are a religious ethnic or linguistic minority live in fear of physical assault and discrimination in the context of limited governance and continued insecurity the opportunity afforded by the retaking of territory from isis is being lost if communities are unable to co exist iraq may soon reach a point beyond repair post liberation strategies are therefore urgently required that are comprehensive in addressing security needs but are also aimed at reconciliation reparation and re establishing the rule of law this book explores european union crisis management and draws implications for its role as an international security actor the success of eu crisis management has varied greatly and this book aims to identify the key factors that explain the differing degrees of coherence through a comparative analysis of its multidimensional crisis responses in africa the empirical focus lies on three prominent eu crisis management cases namely libya in 2011 somalia in 2011 2012 and the sahel in 2012 2013 it analyses the activities and interaction of eu institutional actors and member states with a focus on france the united kingdom and germany the book argues that the eu represents a rather unpredictable security actor whose multi level coherence is contingent on the congruence of domestic economic and electoral interests as well as national threat perceptions and the extent to which eu level coherence norms resonate with national norms on the use of force and modes of multilateral cooperation in sum this book offers systematic insight into eu crisis management and clarifies the conceptual and empirical boundaries of the comprehensive approach finally the study of the micro foundations of coherence allows for policy relevant suggestions on the eu s future role as a security actor this book will be of much interest to students of eu policy european security peace and conflict studies african politics and ir in general
