in september of 1976 a group of some fifty scholars and practising mystics gathered at the university of calgary the chief objective of the conference was to ponder and assess the nature of mysticism in its eastern western and north american indian forms the method the conference followed was somewhat unusual in that it aimed at a dialogue between the practising mystics and the scholars what this book presents to the reader is not the outcome of the dialogue but the personal statements and papers from which the dialogue began of course there is a degree to which the dialogue is already present in that the papers of the scholars were written with the statements of the mystics in hand among some of the philosophers present a set of more formal comments on each others presentations was recorded and these have been included this is the fourth volume in an influential series that presents a basic revaluation of the nature of mysticism each provides a collection of solicited papers by noted experts in the study of religion this new volume will explore how the great mystics and mystical traditions use interpret and reconstruct the sacred scriptures of their traditions this book presents key psychoanalytic theories from a fresh perspective that of the mystical element the author explores the depth structure of central assumptions in psychoanalytic theory to uncover the mystical core of conventional analytic thinking exploring authors from freud and ferenczi through bion and winnicott to contemporary voices such as ogden bollas and eigen the book shows that psychoanalysis has always operated on the assumption of psychic overlap a soul to soul contact between patient and analyst surprisingly the book shows how this magical facet goes hand in hand with a pragmatic worldview that explores the epistemological complexities of psychoanalysis in search of a way to join the subjective even the mystical with the practical aim of serving as a validated mental health discipline this is accomplished through an interdisciplinary and intertextual encounter between psychoanalysis and the innovative pairing of william james pragmatic philosophy and martin buber s dialogic thought the author s paradoxical stance surrounding the nature and role of psychoanalysis and its mystical facet resonate the great challenge embedded in winnicott s insistence on tolerating paradox and bion s demand to respect all parts of the psychoanalytic truth in this case the practical and mundane alongside the mystical and magical the book s broad interdisciplinary outlook will captivate both psychoanalysts and psychoanalytic therapists as well as scholars of philosophy evelyn underhill was one of the greatest spiritual writers of the twentieth century her legacy as a pivotal figure in christian mysticism endures today for her true mysticism is first of all active and practical an organic life process in which the whole self is engaged rather than simply an intellectual apprehension underhill s essays on the topic merits a reexamination since it is still used in most courses that explore the experience of god called mysticism and still attracts contemporary spiritual seekers excerpt what are the true essentials of mysticism when we have stripped off those features which some mystics accept and some reject all that is merely due to tradition temperament or unconscious allegorism what do we find as the necessary and abiding character of all true mystical experience this question is really worth asking for some time much attention has been given to the historical side of mysticism and some much less to its practice but there has been no clear understanding of the difference between its substance and its accidents between traditional forms and methods and the eternal experience which they have mediated in mystical literature words are frequently confused with things and symbols with realities so that much of this literature seems to the reader to refer to some self consistent and exclusive dream world and not to the achievement of universal truth thus the strong need for re statement which is being felt by institutional religion the necessity of re translating its truths into symbolism which modern men can understand and accept applies with at least equal force to mysticism it has become important to disentangle the facts from ancient formulae used to express them contents the essentials of mysticism the mystic and the corporate lifemysticism and the doctrine of atonementthe mystic as creative artistthe education of the spiritthe place of will intellect and feeling in prayer the mysticism of plotinus three mediaeval mystics i the mirror of simple souls ii the blessed angela of folignoiii julian of norwich mysticism in modern france i soeur thÉrÈse de l enfant jÉsusii lucie christineiii charles
