nicole r fleetwood explores how blackness is seen as a troubling presence in the field of vision and the black body is persistently seen as a problem she examines a wide range of materials from visual and media art documentary photography theatre performance and more

this book argues that new comedy has a far richer performance texture than has previously been recognised offering close readings of all the major plays of menander it shows how intertextuality the sustained dialogue of new comedy performance with the diverse ideological philosophical literary and theatrical discourses of contemporary polis culture is crucial in creating semantic depth and thus offsetting the impression that the plots are simplistic love stories with no political or ideological resonances it also explores how the visual aspect of the plays opsis is just as important as any verbal means of signification a phenomenon termed intervisuality examining in particular depth the ways in which the mask can infuse various systems of reference into the play masks like the panchrēstos neaniskos the all perfect youth for example are now full of meaning thus with their ideologically marked physiognomies they can be strong instigators of literary and

this collection reflects not only the multidisciplinary nature of current thinking about performance but also the complex and contested nature of the concept itself
