from one of the leading literary critics of his generation comes the first of edmund wilson s three novels i thought of daisy published together with his short story galahad set in greenwich village in the 1920s edmund wilson s i thought of daisy tells the coming of age story of a young man living a bohemian life and of his heartfelt relationship with a chorus girl he meets at a party fictional sketches drawn from real life literary figures are scattered throughout including john dos passos and wilson s lover edna st vincent millay also included in this volume is wilson s short story galahad about the sexual awakening of a young boy at prep school what needs to be said is how good if ungainly daisy is how charmingly and intelligently she tells of the speakeasy days of a greenwich village as red and cozy as a valentine of lamplit islands where love and ambition and drunkenness bloomed all at once the fiction writer in wilson was real and his displacement is a real loss john updike have you ever heaved a deep sigh called up your best friend and lamented this is certainly not where i thought i d be then looked around for something to help you feel better we all listen to the wrong people try the wrong things and give our time to events that drain us rather than uplift us often when we don t understand why we are not where we thought we d be so we turn to external sources for validation and contentment no matter your age or situation this book will help you take an in depth look at your life to seek out god in order to find contentment and the solid assurance that you are right where you are supposed to be each chapter opens the conversation to possible solutions for finding a deeper relationship with god through scripture prayer and an honest look at where we are on the path to finding contentment in our lives description this is who i thought i would be i knew i would be able to write a small book after my second breakdown but i am not very good at wording things but i have tried my best these false beliefs went on until my fifth breakdown i am not a nutter and i am not mad i just wanted to share my experiences with people that have had similar experiences in life by writing this book i thought i would find out where the king of scotland really came from and put an end to all these false beliefs i have been through a long and painful journey having bi polar disorder then being wrongly diagnosed more than once then being back to bi polar disorder again i have had five nervous breakdowns since 1995 and lost my family and friends it took me two years after my breakdown to regain my confidence again and get my life back together after drinking heavily in the past and suicide attempts and over spending money i never thought i would get married again and have a new family and friends i hope the experiences that i have shared with you will be helpful to fellow service users professionals and people out in the community to help with the stigma of mental health i want people to understand more about mental health problems about the author born on the 21 of october 1961 in a place called kilwinning in scotland two years later my parents wanted a fresh start in england to a place called thringstone on the scottish estate in a two bedroom flat in 1971 my parents separated a few years later i left school with no qualifications and got a job working for british coal at snibston colliery in 1985 i got married and three years later we had a daughter in 1993 i took redundancy i was out of work for a year then i started drinking heavy in 1994 a got a job with a local firm i started to feel unwell and in january 1995 i was taken into carlton hayes hospital with my first nervous breakdown at the age of thirty three my marriage lasted nearly ten years then we separated since then i have had another four breakdowns in that time in and out my bi polar episodes i ve done eleven years voluntary work i first started with the befriending scheme for seven years and then went onto the peoples forum and that s were i started for leicestershire partnership trust so now i go onto the wards every two weeks and listen and try and help other service users then i put in for peer advocacy worker for lamp and got the job then went on a course for seven weeks then on the twenty eighth of february 2008 i got my certificate of achievement for successfully completing the peer advocacy training course my life couldn t get any better i feel like i am putting something back and helping people who have been in the same situation as me now i am on the wards at the bradgate unit twice a week for two hours it will be a journey for me my hobbies are walking three times a week and playing snooker once a week with a friend the book that i have written entitled the husbands i thought i found is an autobiography it is about my relationship with my dad which is the reason i pick all the wrong men to have a future with how i longed for my dad to be in my life constantly this book is also about my life being a young woman living under my mothers roof i couldnt wait to get out into the world i finally had an opportunity to leave her house i had never been with anyone before and i lacked the experiences and knowledge to make some of the decisions i made which led me into situations of physical emotional and verbal abuse my life had become a hellish nightmare and was full of heartbreak would i ever find the right man or would i stay in this deadly relationship
