this book compiles research from such varied disciplines as psychology economics sociology business and communications to find the best empirical research being done on the movies based on perspectives that many filmgoers have never considered eleanor cameron 1912 1996 was an innovative and genre defying author of children s fiction and children s literature criticism from her beginnings as a librarian cameron went on to become a prominent and respected voice in children s literature writing one of the most beloved children s science fiction novels of all time the wonderful flight to the mushroom planet and later winning the national book award for her time fantasy the court of the stone children in addition eleanor cameron played an often vocal role in critical debates about children s literature she was one of the first authors to take up literary criticism of children s novels and published two influential books of criticism including the green and burning tree one of cameron s most notable acts of criticism came in 1973 when she wrote a scathing critique of roald dahl s charlie and the chocolate factory dahl responded in kind and the result was a fiery imbroglio within the pages of the horn book magazine yet despite her many accomplishments most of cameron s books went out of print by the end of her life and her star faded this biography aims to reinsert cameron into the conversation by taking an in depth look at her tumultuous early life in ohio and california her unforgettably forceful personality and criticism and her graceful heartfelt novels the biography includes detailed analysis of the creative process behind each of her published works and how cameron s feminism environmentalism and strong sense of ethics are reflected in and represented by her writings drawn from over twenty interviews thousands of letters and several unpublished manuscripts in her personal papers eleanor cameron is a tour of the most exciting and creative periods of american children s literature through the experience of one of its valiant purveyors and champions this book explores how transformations and translations shape musical meanings developments and the perception of music across cultures starting with the concept of music as multimodal text the author understands translation as the process of transferring a text from one language verbal or not into another interlingually intralingually or intersemiotically as well as the products that are derived from this process she situates music and translation within their contemporary global context examining the tensions between local and global cosmopolitan and national and universal and specific settings to arrive at a celebration of the translational power of music and an in depth study of how musical texts are translated this book will be of interest to translation studies scholars who want to broaden their horizons as well as to musicians and music scholars seeking to understand how cultural exchange and dissemination can be driven by translation how do we explain the globalized musical world in which we find ourselves in the early 21st century and how did we arrive here this extraordinary book outlines an understanding of the human musical story as an intercultural and ultimately a transcultural one with travel and trade as the primary conditions and catalysts for the ongoing development of musical styles starting with the cultural and civilizational precedents that gave rise to the first global trading and travel network in both directions across the afro eurasian old world in the form of the silk road the book proceeds to the rise of al andalus and its influence on europe through the iberian peninsula before considering the fusion of european african and indigenous musics that emerged in the americas between c1500 1920 as part of atlantic culture and the new world as well as the concurrent acceleration of globalism in music through european empires and exoticism the book concludes by examining the musical implications of our current age of instantaneous exchange that technology permits and by revisiting the question of interculturality and transculturality in music perhaps villagers were the best natural critics of life under communism in eastern europe theirs is a perspective at once ironic satiric and filled with stoicism in these stories from macedonia meto jovanovski writes wittily against urban authorities whose agents are everywhere and nowhere and who conduct absurd modernizing campaigns such as shooting all the dogs in the village he writes tellingly of the indignities of queues telephones air travel and military conscription and like john berger he persuades us that it is often the villager who is most in touch with the deepest realities of life in flight to eternity for example it seems entirely natural that a man should gently make love to his dying wife a powerful scene of the sort hard to find in the brutal and sophisticated sexuality of modern literature
