the topic of this volume is the teaching and learning practices in the major and minor academic centers of renaissance europe and their relevance for early modern intellectual history academic knowledge is here regarded not as a finished product but as a process induced by multiple factors and several conditions the personalities and intellectual profiles of teachers and learners the dialectic between their respective interests and roles the institutional context from the immediate one given by the particular school or university with their courses and curricula to the more remote one given by governing political power or surveilling religious authority or the interplay between the two last but not least one should consider the several impulses of an epoch that seem to impart to the historical course a sudden acceleration inducing decisive sometimes disruptive changes to intellectual development the spread of humanistic culture the religious reformation and its consequences the encounter with new epistemologies the access to education of new social subjects and behind all these and as their common catalyst the progressive establishment of the press as a means of learning consolidation and dissemination

this collection of essays presents recent research on the inns of court and their place in the literature and culture of the early modern world the volume is structured in three sections section one looks at the institutional spaces of the inns themselves the chapters consider how the innsmen s identities and writings were shaped by their participation in the communal life of the legal societies section two looks at the inns in the context of early modern london the chapters attend to the intellectual and cultural traffic between the inns and the city in which they were located by examining the role of innsmen in the book trade the circulation of manuscripts playhouses and musical culture finally section three sets a wider international context the chapters focus on the role of innsmen in translation nation building and early colonisation together these sections attend to the innsmen not only as writing communities in themselves but as participants in a complex of intersecting networks reaching out into london and beyond
